Smart Water workshop teaches tricks of reducing water bills

The free workshop is part of the "Your Green Life Now" conservation program being sponsored by the City and teaches residents to save money while making their home more sustainable. The workshops are being held through June.

Each month a class offers an introduction on a specific topic, with more in-depth classes and follow-up workshops available to those interested in learning more. Guest speakers, special offers, door prizes and free literature are components of each workshop.

Future workshop dates and topics include:

- All About Solar - April 15
- Reduce, Reuse and Recycle at Home - May 20
- Greening Your Home - June 17
